

I am writing regarding the sophmoric attacks against sattalite radio services. It is the right of sattalite radio to improve their service whether it be regional weather channels or any other content for that matter. It is a subscription based service available only to those who pay for it. It is pretty damn obvious that traditional radios charges are out of line legally, morally, and a violation of the 1st amendment.

Incedently local traffic and weather is avaiiable on the internet, cable television, on your cell phone.
